T.C. Five To Play Marines Saturday

The Quantico Marines will invade Georgia for the first time Saturday with the intention of snatching the Georgia Teachers' string of home basketball victories, now numbering 29.

Laboratory High School and the Statesboro High boys will play at 6:45 before the college game. Both contests will be in the college gymnasium.

Manned by former collegiate and professional stars, the Marines from Virginia have a higher power rating than the Teachers. The Teachers, however, haven't had a close contest on the local court since they defeated the Parris Island Marines 62-60, in overtime in their December, 1949, opener.

They won their 25th straight game at home, 69-44, over Mercer University Saturday. It was their 13th triumph against one defeat this season.

BLOOD TEST EXHIBIT

An exhibit stressing the importance of periodic blood tests and the need for immediate treatment from a physician in the case of contracting venereal diseases is being sponsored by the local post of the American Legion, Commander Joe Woodcock announced this week.

The display will be in Statesboro Thursday through Saturday. It will be parked in a trailer in front of the United 5 and 10 Cent store on North Main street.

Using the slogan that "America needs strong men and women, the display contains pictures of the first symptoms of venereal diseases and urges infected persons to make a visit to their family physician immediately for treatment.

There are 692,325 adults serving in the Boy Scouts of America as volunteer leaders.

Good Bye Good Roads

House Bill No. 19 now pending in the Georgia Legislature, masquerading as a traffic safety code, proposes to increase maximum loaded weight of trucks from 56,000 pounds up to 71,000 pounds—over 35 tons—and to increase tractor-trailer lengths up to 50 feet to make them longer than a box car!

GOOD BYE! GOOD ROADS!

Recent tests conducted in Maryland under the auspices of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, demonstrates that heavily loaded trucks ruin pavements. The tests have been conducted for six months over pavements closed to other traffic. In three months the 18,000 pound axle loaded truck caused 82 feet of new cracks in the half-mile concrete test lane. Heavier trucks cause up to 2,968 feet of cracks. The damage from the most heavily loaded trucks was so great that the tests had to be suspended.

Soil Conservation News

By J. R. KELLY

Harry Lee, Oscar Etheridge, Horace Deal, Josh Smith Jr., M. L. Taylor, A. L. Taylor, and Zach Smith, cooperators with the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, were busy last week setting out coastal bermuda grass. Most of the grass was planted with the bermuda grass planter owned by the Bulloch County Unit of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District. From 8 to 10 acres a day can be planted with this planter, which is pulled by any type of farm tractor, provided an extra man is on hand to keep the planter replenished with grass.

Persons interested in renting this machine for setting out bermuda grass should contact Mr. Fred Elitch, Bulloch County Supervisor, Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District.

Plans Be Discussed For Vet Classes

For veterans who still have time to their credit for education are asked to meet at the Veterans Service Office, on the first floor of the courthouse, at 7:30 Tuesday night of next week.

Plans will be discussed to inaugurate night classes at Teachers College for those who wish to continue their education under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Dean Paul Carroll of the college and H. H. Olliff, veterans service officer, will be present to discuss the plans.

Further information may be secured from "Red" Brown at the post office or Mr. Olliff at the courthouse.

Personal Items

U. S. Marine Robert Brannen, a patient at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Greer Brannen. He had as his guest Boatwains Mac Cull Wright, also of Portsmouth.

Mr. W. R. Ivey, of Augusta, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chalmers Franklin, and family.

Two County Girls T.C. Cheerleaders

Miss Ann Nevil, of Register, is one of six women named to make up the cheerleading team at Georgia Teachers College.

Miss Sue Simmons, also of Register, is an alternate member.

The girls are busy generating pep for a varsity basketball squad that has won 13 games and lost only one. The college advertises the attractively-dressed cheerleaders as "A Team That Never Loses."

Miss Nevil is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nevil, of Register. Miss Simmons' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons, of Register.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS A HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

At the regular meeting of the Statesboro Woman's Club last Thursday, the members made plans for organization of a Hospital Auxiliary. A committee made up of Mrs. Alfred Dorman, Mrs. Paul Carroll and Mrs. Len Zetterover was named to meet with representatives of the hospital to complete the organization.

Disaster Preparedness Plans Drawn Up For Statesboro, Bulloch County

"It can happen here," Dan Hartley, general field representative of the American Red Cross, told members of the Disaster Committee of the Red Cross in a meeting held at the Jaekel Hotel on Monday night of this week.

Major Everett Williams, representing the 49th Senatorial District in the Georgia General Assembly, was host to a group of state leaders at a dinner at the Piedmont Hotel on Monday night of this week.

Among those present were: Mr. Jim Gillis, chairman of the State Highway Board; Lieutenant Governor Marvin Griffin; Roy Harris, of Augusta, member of the Board of Regents; Albert Dozier, Deputy Governor; and Mr. E. Everett, brother of Senator Williams' mother; Senator Williams' father, F. I. Williams.

Bulloch county quail were served at the dinner.

A. B. McDougald has been named chairman of the Disaster Committee and Max Lockwood co-chairman.

The committee is charged with the welfare of Statesboro and Bulloch county in the event of a natural disaster or war disaster.

Co-chairman Lockwood has been working for some time with W. A. (Bill) Bowen, director of the local civil defense.

The meeting Monday night was to present a disaster preparedness plan for handling a disaster if it should strike this community.

According to Mr. Lockwood, the Recreation Center has been set up as disaster headquarters, with all activities to be directed from that point. The Statesboro High School has been set up as headquarters for food, clothing and shelter under the direction of S. H. Sherman and B. B. Morris. Don Coleman will handle the shelter.

Dr. W. D. Lundquist and Dr. Waldo Floyd will direct medical care and hospitalization for the sick and injured. Mrs. Don Coleman heads the group of volunteer nurses. Mrs. Paul Carroll heads the volunteer service groups made up of hundreds of women throughout the county, who will provide transportation, prepare food, roll bandages, and help with home nursing.

T.C. Beauty Revue Scheduled Feb. 14

Sponsors of the annual Beauty Revue at Georgia Teachers College, are tying this year's presentation to the Valentine season, according to Miss Frieda Gernant and Miss Helen Poppel, co-directors of this year's revue.

Staged by Jack Averitt in the past, the Alpha Rho Tau Club is sponsoring the revue this year. Mr. Averitt is on a year's leave of absence at the University of North Carolina working on his doctorate degree.

Miss Dorothy Stewart will direct the acting. Jack Brockle will handle the musical arrangements, and Miss Rocky Remly the staging.

The date set for the revue is Wednesday evening, February 14.

Ellsasser to Add Hymns to Program

Jack Brockle, of Georgia Teachers College, announces this week that Richard Ellsasser, world-famous organist, will add a number of popular hymns, requested by citizens of Statesboro, to his program here Monday evening.

When Ellsasser appears at the college next Monday evening, February 5, he will be making his tenth appearance since he began his transcontinental tour on Friday, January 19, in Phoenix, Arizona.

Since that opening performance he has played before great audiences in Tucson, Ariz., Pueblo, Colo., Garden City, Kan., Galveston, Texas, and Memphis, Tenn. He will play in Brunswick, Ga., tomorrow night and in Clearwater, Fla., on Sunday night of this week.

After leaving Statesboro he will make eleven more appearances in the United States and Canada. He will return to Los Angeles on Tuesday, February 27.

Music lovers of Statesboro and Bulloch county will recall with pleasure his appearance last year. His appearance here is sponsored by the Georgia Teachers College chapter of the American Guild of Organists. Tickets are on sale at Henry's.

Mrs. E. A. Smith Honored By Ogeechee Association

Mrs. E. A. Smith, superintendent of the Baptist Women's Mission work in the Ogeechee Association for 25 years, was honored upon her retirement at the annual W. M. U. meeting held at Olive Branch Church on January 25.

With her retirement, Mrs. E. A. Smith, only surviving charter member of the Ogeechee Association which was organized in 1903, offered the following resolution: "Be it Resolved, that we, the annual session of the Women's Missionary Union Auxiliary of the Ogeechee River Association at Olive Branch, this day, January 25, 1951, express our sincere and heartfelt appreciation and thanks for the 25 years of devoted and efficient service of Mrs. E. A. Smith as superintendent of our Union."

"We realize that it was through her efficiency and devotion that we have risen to be one of the best organized and active Unions in the state."

"As a memorial for the 25 years of W. M. U. service, this association will present $100 to Camp Pinnacle to perpetuate Mrs. Smith's name there."

"Having served unselfishly, she has served eternally."

"Signed: Mrs. S. C. GROOVER," Mrs. Smith's predecessor in the mission cause in more than 20 rural churches throughout the years. Her final report revealed that in the 25 years of her service 17 missionary societies contributed more than $22,000 to mission enterprises.

Emory Man To Address Alumni

Robert F. Whitaker, superintendent of Emory University Hospital, Atlanta, and a 1927 graduate of Emory Law School, will address alumni and friends of Emory at a celebration in honor of the university's 144th birthday Thursday, February 8, at the Forest Heights Country Club in Statesboro. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p. m.

Parents of 13 students now enrolled at the university and 66 alumni members of the Statesboro district club have been invited to take part in the festivities, according to Dr. John Mooney Jr., president of the club here. Reservations may be made with Mr. Donald O. McDougald, club secretary-treasurer, at 207 Donaldson street, Statesboro, Dr. Mooney said.

Mr. Whitaker has held the position of Emory Hospital superintendent since 1944, and has been a member of the Emory administrative staff since 1931. He is chairman of the Atlanta Hospital Superintendents' Council; secretary of the United Hospitals Service Association and 1949-50 president of the Georgia Hospital Association. He is a member of the council on government relations of the American Hospital Association and former secretary-treasurer of the Southeastern Hospital Conference. Mr. Whitaker will give a paper on the state of the university.

He is chairman of the Atlanta Hospital Superintendents' Council; secretary of the United Hospitals Service Association and 1949-50 president of the Georgia Hospital Association. He is a member of the council on government relations of the American Hospital Association and former secretary-treasurer of the Southeastern Hospital Conference. Mr. Whitaker will give a paper on the state of the university.

Emory Man To Address Alumni

Robert F. Whitaker, superintendent of Emory University Hospital, Atlanta, and a 1927 graduate of Emory Law School, will address alumni and friends of Emory at a celebration in honor of the university's 144th birthday Thursday, February 8, at the Forest Heights Country Club in Statesboro. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p. m.

Parents of 13 students now enrolled at the university and 66 alumni members of the Statesboro district club have been invited to take part in the festivities, according to Dr. John Mooney Jr., president of the club here. Reservations may be made with Mr. Donald O. McDougald, club secretary-treasurer, at 207 Donaldson street, Statesboro, Dr. Mooney said.

DON'T RIDE with a drunken driver! It may cost you your life.

But if you don't consider your life worth anything, then consider the fact that it may cost you $100 if you are caught riding in an automobile with a drunken driver at the steering wheel.

Well, it's not an established fact yet that you will be fined, but if one item now being considered by the Georgia Safety Council's traffic legislative committee in drafting a new state traffic code is passed by the General Assembly, you will draw a fine.

Rep. Howard Overby, of Hall county, vice president of the Georgia Safety Council and chairman of its traffic legislative committee, says that his committee is considering the matter of not only jail sentences and revocation of drivers' li-

Matches Are Dangerous

REMEMBER, WHEN you were a kid, how you loved to play with matches?

And remember all the times mother told you to be careful around the fire?

Chief of the Fire Department Logan Hagan is putting it a little different: "In the hands of a child, matches are potentially more dangerous than a loaded gun."

Warming up to his subject, our fire chief urges parents and teachers to impress upon the minds of our youth that a match is something to be feared and shunned.

To the parents, Chief Hagan says, "Don't let your child carry matches—even the safety type."

But, realizing that it's hard to get through to the growing young'un the dangers of fire, he compromises by asking that children be taught what to do in case of fire.

So, if your child must "play with fire" and if a fire is started and gets out of control, teach him to go quickly to the nearest telephone and call 345 (the city fire department) and give his name, the street and house number (if house has a number), and stay there until firemen arrive.

We Are Reminded

OUR EDITORIAL above on instructing your children on what to do if a fire gets out of control reminded us of our drum-beating over the years to get the homes of Statesboro properly numbered.

We remember how, a couple of years ago, the Junior Chamber of Commerce got hot as a firecracker over the idea. They went before the city council, and proposed a plan to number every house in Statesboro.

In the years we have been publishing The Herald we have probably written as much about "the lost homes of Statesboro" as on any other subject.

And those homes are still lost—as far as visitors are concerned.

Only recently friends of ours from out of town called and we invited them out to our home.

We could not say simply, "We live at blank number College Boulevard."

We had to go into an involved routing—"Leave the place where you now are, turn left at the traffic light, cross the railroad, take the right hand fork there, drive until you come to the first boulevard drive, which comes to a dead end at a big two-story house with a mailbox close by, turn right on the boulevard, then cross the paved street, and when you come to another dead end at the railroad you'll find our house, which is the one on the southeast corner. We'll have the porch light on and be waiting for you."

Did they find it?

Oh, no . . .

They ended up at the house across the street.

It'll Be Hard To Do

BULLOCH COUNTY honored seven Master Farmers and their families recently at a meeting of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce.

Experts View Family Life

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

"FAMILY LIFE" was the subject for a panel discussion sponsored by the Georgia Teachers College Home Economics Club, Dr. Helen Deal represented the physical life of the family, and Dr. L. H. Harnsberger spoke about the family's spiritual life, while Mr. Fielding Russell, principal of the Laboratory High School, represented the school and its influence on the family of today. Mr. Fielding Russell was the leader for the group.

Prior to his presentation of the panel, Mr. Russell, in a brief introduction of the subject for discussion, concluded that he considered the subject not only timely but pressing. "It is entirely possible that under the strain, stress and speed of our modern life, parents, unknown to themselves, are devoting only part time to a full-time assignment," he said.

Dr. Helen Deal expressed a belief that precepts and examples set by parents establish lifelong habits. Good health is permanently affected by daily living. Children's sense of security depends on a regular schedule that does not mean that all families have the same program—the Jones' household may run on an entirely different routine from the Smith's household, breakfast may be at 6 o'clock in one home and 8 o'clock in the other, etc. But the important factor is that each have a set time for daily living so that the children know what to expect.

Dr. Deal felt concern over our children's eating habits. She said that people, so often in expressing kindness to children, give them candy, when, in her opinion, a carrot stick would be better. Other bad eating habits include the failure to eat the foods that promote growth. Instead, there is the tendency to fill the corners of the stomach with bread, thereby satisfying the hunger.

Mrs. Billy Simmons, speaking for the parents, said, "There has been, over recent years, an increasing awareness that many needs and want information about ways in which parents and children can add to the happiness of each other. Today, a parent who wants to learn how to handle his problems can be helped by consulting a dozen different sources. With so many sources available, no one, nowadays, need stumble along in complete blindness. The major steps are a true desire to be helpful to one's children, an open mind about the information that one receives and a conviction that warm, intelligent, working together with intelligence and knowledge, can accomplish wonders." She concluded her remarks by saying, "Good parents see life in terms of a happy vacation trip. They can have fun not only when they arrive at their destination, but also at stops along the way. They are leisurely in their stops and get the most out of each point on the way."

Mr. Harnsberger, in expressing his thoughts about the spiritual phase of family life, thought as Dr. Deal, that lifelong habits are formed by daily precepts and examples of the parents. He pointed out that the family who reserves a time each day for devotion and prayer is easily distinguished from the one which does not allow time for group meditation. As proof of the lasting influence of such religious training one can follow children from families with family worship into an adult through adulthood and find them establishing their own homes with family altars, Mr. Harnsberger believes.

Mr. Thompson's primary point of emphasis was upon the mutual task of the home and school in the education of the child. To attain the richest result, he pointed out that parents and teachers should be sympathetic towards the school's attempt to distinguish the individual abilities of their several children, but, on the other hand, he acknowledged the school's obligation to know the problems which parents face in dealing with the children.

Following the discussion, questions were asked from the audience and helpful answers were offered by the panel.

On Monday night of next week citizens of this community will be given the opportunity to see and hear Richard Ellsasser, one of the world's greatest organists.

For the past several years the Georgia Teachers College and the Statesboro Concert Association have cooperated in bringing to this community some of the finest artists in the country.

Last year Ellsasser was brought here by the Georgia Teachers College chapter of the American Guild of Organists. This he comes again under the sponsorship of the guild.

We are exceedingly fortunate in securing these attractions. There is something fine and lifting in listening to great music presented by great artists. It is good for our community. It gives it a distinction lacking in so many communities like ours.

It furnishes us with the cultural stimulus which we need.

And, so it is, we commend the college, the Concert Association, and members of the Organ Guild.

And the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county can show their appreciation by their enthusiastic support.

FRIENDLINESS is something like the mumps—when you are exposed to it some of its rubs off and you catch it.

Because five people in Statesboro—a tourist court owner, a barber, a grocer, a restaurant operator and a plain citizen—are friendly, and because they have a deep love for their community, two people carried part of that love and friendliness to their home in Columbia, S. C.

"The seriousness of this drive cannot be overestimated. It is important that contributions be sent in at once to Miss Sally Benson (at Radio Station WWSN). The last three years have been a bad year for polio, and because the Georgia Polio Foundation has had an especially heavy burden, it is now $100,000 in debt. This money must be paid, and an additional minimum of $500,000 needed to defray this year's expenses."

S. DEW GROOVER SPEAKS TO STILSON FARM BUREAU

S. DEW GROOVER asked the Stilson group to make a series of effort to increase their yield and size of the 1951 peanut crop. He recommended that the jumbo growers plant more large peanuts and smaller ones with the New Holland, or smaller peanuts they are growing.

He predicted that the peanuts would sell for about the same price they did last year, or better. The 1951 grading program will probably demand more large peanuts than in the past, and continue to demand more large peanuts until the program lies can be signed up to make kernels. Mr. Groover pointed out that in the early days of jumbo peanuts here about 40 per cent of the kernels were classified as large until lots of them could not classify as large with the present 11 per cent requirements.

Mr. Groover stated that he did not know of a better runner variety of peanuts for the most of the county than the 5615, but urged the fellows on the loan soil to use New Holland.

Last week was barbecue time at the Farm Bureaus. All three of the groups served barbecue dinners.

Serving committees were set up at all three meetings for the entire year in each of the three communities.

PORTAL POSTPONES FEBRUARY MEETING

Portal voted to not hold its February meeting, due to the basketball tournament. C. M. Cowart reported on the activities of the Farm Bureau convention at Portal, H. E. Allen and W. H. Smith, gave a report on the convention to the West Side group. The speech of the American Farm Bureau Federation president, Allen B. Barnes, was used as a part of the report.

Mr. Allen liked the speech well enough when he first heard it to buy a tape recording of it for use on the local radio and at his Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau

West Side, Stilson, Portal To Have Opportunity To Get Telephones Soon

Every farmer in the West Side, Stilson and Portal communities will have a chance to sign up for a telephone during the week, if plans made at the Farm Bureau meetings in these communities last week work out as planned.

Edwin Banks, the new West Side president, asked some five members of that organization to contact every family in the community that did not have a phone this week. Dan C. Lee, the Stilson president, had already named a committee and it was working. Mr. Lee stated they would see every family in their community right off also.

Delmas Rushing, president of the Sinkhole group, is inviting one of the foreign students at the college to talk with his group on Thursday night.

The rural telephone program as outlined by the president of the groups will work right much like the present REA service. Money will be borrowed from REA to build the lines, the cooperative will have to maintain the lines and then procure service through creditable exchange for the various lines.

The committees are collecting a $30 deposit now with the understanding that they will probably have to put up an additional $10 later. It is hoped that enough families can be signed up to make the overall service for the phone will be at a reasonable rate over the entire county.

Novelty Club Gives Surprise Party

On Wednesday afternoon the Novelty Club entertained Mrs. Arthur Howard at her home on South Main street, the occasion being celebrated by the fact that Wednesday was the forty-seventh anniversary of her marriage.

Club members met on the sidewalk in front of the Howard home and entered in a group, completely surprising Mrs. Howard. A canasta game was in progress and guests had just entered into the party.

The home was already beautifully decorated with carnations and narcissus which the honoree had received earlier in the day for her anniversary.

Mrs. Howard was presented a lovely blue glass sash by the Novelty Club.

They served Old English cheese wafers, cookies, Coca-Colas, and nuts.

Anniversary games were played, and those winning prizes were Mrs. H. F. Hook, Mrs. Hugh Turner, and Mrs. O. M. Lanier.

Mrs. Howard cut her anniversary cake and served it with coffee.

Those present were Mrs. H. M. Hook, Mrs. Burton Mitchell, Mrs. H. F. Hook, Mrs. Hugh Turner, Mrs. J. A. Hargraves, Mrs. O. M. Lanier, and Mrs. George Lee. Mrs. H. F. Hook, Mrs. Jim Branan and Mrs. J. L. Johnson were visitors.

T.C. Plays Pelzer Mills On Saturday

For the third successive week, the Georgia Teachers' big basketball game comes on Saturday night at home, with midget teams of the University of Georgia and Clemson College. The Teachers' Pelzer Mills, which has an 88-point scoring average, will lead the first college quintet to defeat the Bears.

This Friday night, the local collegians will play Green Cove Naval Station, here, Laboratory High School and Claxton will meet in a preliminary game at 6:45. A doubleheader will be offered Saturday night as well, with midget teams of the Statesboro Recreation Center vying at 7 p.m.

A 30-game winning streak on the home court ended last Saturday when the Quantico Marines, overcoming a 42-31 deficit at half-time, defeated the Teachers, 70-64. The Bears appeared in the second half after three starting players fouled out.

The latest release of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, based on the first 10 games, showed the Teachers College again leading the nation in scoring with an 83-point average.

W.S.B. To Salute Teachers College Radio Station WSB, Atlanta, is saluting Georgia Teachers College on its Platter Party this week.

The programs, heard at 12:05 a. m., will continue through Thursday and Friday. They consist of songs requested by students and recitations of interesting facts about the college. Spencer W. Overstreet Jr., of Watley, president of the student body, was interviewed on the first program Monday by Bob Watson, who conducts the 30-minute broadcast.

Golf League Being Planned For Area

The Forest Heights Country Club golf team and the Swainsboro team will meet on the local golf course today for an inter-city golf match.

A. W. Stockdale, chairman of the club's golf committee, in announcing the match, states that plans will be made tonight for the organization of a golf league to include Statesboro, Swainsboro, Vidalia, Dublin, and other cities in this section.

Mr. Stockdale said that Ty Cobb Jr., of Dublin, and Bill Darby, of Vidalia, have reported that they will have two representatives from each of the two cities at the meeting. The golfers on Swainsboro's team will represent that city.

Purebred Hog Sale To Be Held Feb. 7

The first purebred sale of the year will be held at the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company barn on Wednesday, February 7, F. C. Parker Jr., manager of the barn, announces.

S. H. Young, of Tennille, has been invited to bring some 15 bred girls, a few fall gilts and boars.

Young has brought hogs here before and local livestock men have found them satisfactory. He has probably brought more good purebred hogs to the county than any other outside breeder.

Mr. Young stated that the blood lines in this sale will be as good as any he has brought here. The top side will feature the Red Star line, one of the top show lines today.

Mr. Parker advised that the hogs will be on display at his barn Wednesday morning. They will be sold just prior to the regular sale.

The University of Georgia, National ratings make them an underdog to the Quantico Marines, opponent here today, as they seek their 30th consecutive victory on the home floor.

Midget 'Whites' Whip 'Blues' In G.T.C. Gymnasium

Two all-star midget basketball teams fought it out on the T.C. gym court last Saturday night in a preliminary battle before the Teachers-Pelzer game.

The all-star Whites defeated the all-star Blues by a one-point margin, 18-17.

Dave Franklin was high point man for the Whites with 10 points. Don Anderson was high point man for the Blues with nine points.

The line-ups were as follows:

Whites—Dave Franklin, Joe Olliff, co-captains; Hubert Roberts, Lehman Franklin, Sammy Parsons, Billy Seacore and Henry Bowen. Others on the team are Kenny Chandler, Ted McCorkle, Kimball Harville, Ben Hagin, George Hagin, and Ralph Keel.

Blues—Don Anderson and Al McDougald, co-captains; John DeRie, Robert Newsome, Jerry Allen, Dennis DeLoach, Harry Chester, and Elmerine Gion. Other players are John Wheelock, Ashley Boyd, David Parrish, Joe Allen, and Johnny Ridgeland.

The Junior League all-stars have been invited to play in a preliminary game on the T.C. court in the near future.

In the Junior League this week Max Roberts was high point man with 35 points.

In the Senior League only one game was played last week because of the weather and Bill Simmons pushed the ball through the net for 18 points in that single game.

In the Midget League, Joe Olliff, center for the Cobras, was high with 22 points in two games.

Peggy Stubbs, with 14 points, is high point girl in the Junior Girls' League.

Bulloch Donates 237 Pints of Blood

Joe Minkovitz, chairman of the Bulloch County Blood Bank Project, announced this week the results of the January 17-18 visit of the Bloodmobile.

On the first day 95 donors reported to the Community Center. Fifty-four of these were Negroes.

On the second day 177 donors reported, for a total of 272.

For the two-day period 237 pints of blood were collected.

A feature of the blood collection was the 22 veterans of the Postal Veterans' class who reported and gave blood. Mrs. Bub Lanier, her two sons and two daughters reported together; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tillman and two sons, Joe Robert and Billy reported together.

Eugene Deal Makes Great Progress In Farming Since One-Horse Days

In 1924, Eugene Deal, of Bulloch county started working a "one horse" farm of 35 acres as a sharecropper. During the succeeding 14 years of "share cropping" he moved seven times, increasing his farming operations from more than 100 acres to 1,400 acres. By 1938, after 14 years of applying his energy, common sense, farm practices, and thrift, and with the encouragement and aid of his wife, Mr. Deal had accumulated a pair of mules, two cows, and 20 hogs, with a total value of $800.

In 1938, the urge for farm ownership prompted Mr. Deal to apply to the Farm Security Administration (now the Farmers Home Administration) for assistance in purchasing a farm of 150 acres at a cost of $9,900, including repairs to buildings and equipment. There are 30 acres of improved permanent pasture on which is carried 17 head of cows. There is also eight acres of Coastal Bermuda grass, which Mr. Deal plans to increase to 15 acres, and six acres of fescue which will be increased to 14 acres. The cropping plan now includes 15 acres of peanuts, four acres of tobacco, and the growing out of

Deals Have Big Family

Mr. and Mrs. Deal have six children: Johnny, 25, who served with the armed forces in World War II; Mary Jean, 23 (Mrs. G. R. Lee); Durwood, 21, now serving in the Army; Harry, 19; Wyman, 15; and Carolyn, 11. All of the children have been active members of 4-H Clubs, four finished high school, and the two youngest are still in school.

Mr. and Mrs. Deal are members of the Westside Farm Bureau and attend the Bethlehem Primitive Baptist Church. Mrs. Deal is active in the Parent-Teacher Association and Home Demonstration Club. Their home has been remodeled and a modern bathroom added, and is equipped with electricity, a deep-freeze and electric stove. They have been eating fish from their four-acre pond for the past two years.

The Deal family is an example of what can be accomplished on a Georgia farm through determination, energy, good farm practice, thrift, and pride of ownership.

Conservation Plan Used

Upon approval of his application by the F. S. A., Mr. Deal took possession of his farm and by following a Soil Conservation plan worked out in connection with the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, which provided a diversified live-at-home program and including 15 acres of cotton and some hogs for cash income. Mr. Deal paid for his farm from its own production in five years, and has become one of Bulloch county's most substantial and prosperous farmers.

The Deal farm is now equipped with a tractor, three mules, peanut picker, hay press, duster, seed delivery rake, and all other necessary farm equipment. There are 30 acres of improved permanent pasture on which is carried 17 head of cows. There is also eight acres of Coastal Bermuda grass, which Mr. Deal plans to increase to 15 acres, and six acres of fescue which will be increased to 14 acres. The cropping plan now includes 15 acres of peanuts, four acres of tobacco, and the growing out of

T. C. Beauty Revue Is Set For Valentine; Feb. 14

"A Sweetheart for the Campus" will be the theme of the fifth annual Beauty Revue, a big event at Georgia Teachers College, on Wednesday, February 14.

The idea combines the spirit of St. Valentine's Day with the Sweetheart Campus slogan used by the college. The slogan is based on the heart-shaped driveway forming the entrance to the campus.

The pageant will consist of five acts and will have a college dance setting. Twenty-six contestants, sponsored by student organizations, and accompanied by escorts of their choice, will compete for the first honor, which usually carries the title "Miss Teachers College."

The winner will be presented in the last act with five other finalists as her court.

In the four years since it was revived by Prof. Jack N. Averitt, the revue has attracted more visitors possibly than any other college presentation. This year, with Averitt away completing doctoral study at the University of North Carolina, Alpha Rho Tau fraternity is sponsor. Miss Helen Poppel, of Jesup, is president of the contest. Miss Freida Gernant is faculty sponsor.

Winners in previous years are not allowed to compete, but the girl receiving first place last year, Miss Lonadine Morgan, of Egypt, See "BEAUTY REVUE," Page 8.

If You Send A Package, Mark It 'For Korea'

Last week we published an appeal for clothing, covers, sweaters, dresses, shoes, needles, etc., which came from the Board of Missions in Korea. The purpose of the project will be to set grade-by-grade standards and determine the effect of reading and other visual material on the vision of school children. Dr. Charles H. Little, Waycross, society chairman, said.

Many concepts of child vision today are based primarily upon clinical observation and little statistical evidence grounded on controlled scientific studies. This is a project of the Board of Missions in Korea, Inc., of Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind., and the project will be made as a part of the national program being conducted by the Vision Institute of Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind. At the state level it will be executed by the Georgia Optometric Association, Inc., through its eight affiliated societies.

Announcement of plans for the project came after the Statesboro meeting at which Dr. Walker H. Matthews, Athens, G.O.A. president, made an official appearance. Mrs. Otis Holloway, who lives between Statesboro and Pulaski, sent off a large package this week.

Methodists Begin Revival Feb. 14; Presbyterians Call Harnsberger; Baptists to Hear Mercer Choir

Revival services will begin at the Statesboro Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, February 14, according to an announcement this week by the Rev. John Lough, pastor. Rev. T. L. Harnsberger has been recalled as pastor of the Statesboro Presbyterian Church; and the Mercer Choir will sing at the Statesboro Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

In announcing the revival services at the Methodist Church, Rev. Lough stated that Rev. Frank Q. Echols, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Cedar-town, will be the visiting pastor-evangelist. Clay Milby, of Valdosta, will be song leader and soloist. Mrs. Roger Holland will play the accompaniment.

Rev. Echols is one of the most successful pastor-evangelists in the North Georgia Conference. Rev. Lough said. He is Rome District Director of Evangelism and last fall assisted in the Syracuse, N. Y. evangelistic campaign in which more than 10,000 were received into membership of Methodist churches of that area.

REV. HARNBERGER

18 CALLED

At a called congregational meeting Sunday, February 4, members of the Presbyterian Church unanimously voted to extend the call of Rev. Thomas L. Harnsberger, who has been pastor for more than two years on a supply term. Rev. Harnsberger had considered retiring from active service but was asked by his congregation to accept a new term.

Elders for the church were elected as follows: Jim Cond, now serving in the U. S. Army at Camp Stewart; Raymond P. Summerlin, U. S. Department of Public Health; and John Strickland, of the Maytag Corporation.

Deacons elected are: Dr. Thomas C. Little, chairman, Education Division of Georgia Teachers College; Dr. Thomas B. Alexander, chairman Social Science Division at G.T.C.; W. H. Smith Jr., of Bulloch county; Milton Hendrick, American Oil Company; R. J. Kennedy Jr., civil engineer; and Donald McDougald, assistant controller, Georgia Teachers College.

Mrs. Little and Alexander were accepted into the membership of the local Presbyterian Church as deacons, having been elected to that position in former churches. This is an honor bestowed on Presbyterian church laymen for service in Christ's work in the local church.

Local Lions Club Present Magician

Announcement was made today that Birch, America's foremost magician, with his company of assisting artists will play an evening of magic in this city on February 22 at the Teachers College auditorium.

The Birch show is the largest magic production now on tour in this country. Equipment, scenery and effects valued in excess of $25,000 are carried and will be seen at the local performance.

Slicing a beautiful girl into four parts, shooting a live canary into a burning light bulb, causing a live pony to vanish in midair, and many other startling mysteries will be presented by this master magician and company in a magic pot-pourri of thrills and fun.

Resisting the Birch staff as assisting artists is Mabel Sperry, hailed by critics as the world's greatest girl x-ylophonist. Miss Sperry's charming music is loved everywhere with brilliant solos on her special built marimba x-ylophone.

Tickets for the local engagement are at popular prices, 66 cents and $1.25. They are on sale in advance and may be secured from City Drug Company.

Presbyterian Men Meet Here Feb. 8

Raymond P. Summerlin, president of the Men of Savannah Presbytery and local U. S. Health Department representative, announced this week that a called meeting of the Savannah Presbytery will be held in Statesboro at the First Presbyterian Church today, Thursday, February 8.

Representatives from more than 35 Presbyterian churches in southeast Georgia will be present. Registration is expected to exceed 100. The purpose of the meeting is to adopt a constitution and to fully organize the more than 30 men's organizations now in progress in Presbyterian churches in this area.

Further emphasis will be placed on the Program of Progress, now being carried out in every Presbyterian church in the south. The meeting will begin at 5 p. m. and supper will be served at the Norris Hotel at 6:30.

Welcoming the visitors to this city will be the hosts for the meeting, the men's club of the First Presbyterian Church headed by Mr. Summerlin. Statesboro has one of the largest men's clubs in this area with over 90 per cent of the men of the church active in the organization. Visitors will be welcomed.
